BOY RESCUES FATHER AND COMPANION FROM LAKE; DRAGGING IN VAIN

Twelve hours after Metropolitan and Arlington police officers had started dragging the Lower Mystic Lake for the body of a person believed to have drowned there, a report reached the police last Friday morning which led to a complete solution of the supposed drowning. It developed that two had skated over the ice into a hole men, Leonard Smith and Jack Mick on Thursday evening and both had been rescued by 12-year-old William L. Smith.

Working on the theory that someone had drowned after cries in the Hayes st section and for help had been heard by residents, the police of the Metropolitan District Commission and the Arlington department with the aid of local firemen who supplied a high power searchlight combined their efforts and dragged the Lake for over four hours while the thermometer registered close to zero late last Thursday night. A hockey stick with initials "W.L.S." found while police were dragging convinced the officers that someone had lost his life in the icy waters of the lake. However, when no report of any missing person had reached the police, it was decided to abandon dragging until the following day. Search for the body was to be resumed last Friday morning when, according to the local police,

Lieutenant Kelliher of the Falls station of the M.D.C. received a call from a woman who would not give her name or address informing him that her nephew William Lorne Smith had fallen in the lake the night before and was pulled out by other skaters. Lieutenant Kelliher immediately got in touch with local police. A check-up with the school department led to the address of the boy's home.

With that information, a police cruiser was sent to 22 Amherst st. where it was learned definitely that Leonard Smith, 44, of that address and a Jack Mick had skated into a hole and fell in the icy waters about 9 o'clock Thursday night, and that Smith's son, Lorne, age 12, had rescued both with the aid of his hockey stick. Evidently, the shivering skaters, thankful for their narrow escape, rushed home completely unaware that an intensive but vain search for them was soon to get under way.

BATTLE AUTO FIRE

The automobile operated by Paul Svojan, of 80 Oxford st was slightly damaged when it caught fire in front of 92 Oxford at last Tuesday evening. Firemen were called and Engine 1 responded.

The International Relations Committee of the Arlington Woman's club is holding a round table discussion on Jan. 8th at 10 a. m. in Robbins Library Hall. Mrs. Augustus Doyle is chairman.

Two Arrested In Lottery Raids

Led by Lieutenant Thomas Sullivan, and armed with a search warrant, a squad of local police officers raided two stores and seized a quantity of lottery tickets in both last Saturday afternoon. Two men were arrested as a result.

The first raid took place at the store operated by Anthony Napoleon, at 40 Massachusetts ave. Napoleon was arrested and charged with setting up and promoting a lottery, and having lottery tickets in his possession.

Within an hour the same officers entered the Monument Spa, at 440 Massachusetts ave and seized a quantity of lottery tickets as well as some obscene literature. George Kanjanian was arrested and charged with setting up and promoting a lottery; having lottery tickets in his possession, and obscene literature in his possession.

Arraigned in East Cambridge court, Napoleon was fined $50 for promoting a lottery and the charge of having lottery tickets in his possession was placed on file. Kanjanian's case was continued until January 4. Both men pleaded not guilty to the charges. Making the raid in addition to Inspector Sullivan, were Officers Donovan, Flynn, Hourihan and Keefe.

CAR DAMAGED IN CRASH

Autos operated by John A. Sarkisian, 87 Melrose st and William E. Mason, 359 Massachusetts ave collided at the intersection of Mystic and Summer sts last Sunday afternoon. Slight damage resulted to Mason's car.

Lovell Line Given Permit To Extend Service In Heights

State Department of Public Utilities Issues Certificate — Service Bus Petition Denied by State Despite Selectmen's Approval — Other Matters Taken Up By Board of Selectmen

Reports on action taken by the State Department of Public Utilities on two permits for bus service extensions which the selectmen had approved were received by the board at its meeting last Monday evening. The Lovell Bus Lines were given a certificate of necessity and convenience to extend this route in the Heights while the Service Bus Lines were refused a similar certificate by the state board for extension of service on the northerly side of Massachusetts ave, the state board contending that the latter line would be covering territory already served.

by the Lovell firm were it granted the permit. The Lovell extension will include the following route: From its present terminal at the Heights, over Massachusetts ave to Park ave, over Park ave extension to connect with the present route over Summer st.

To Fill Vacancy

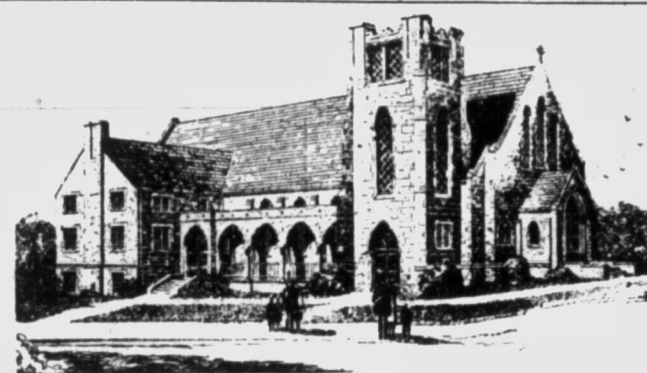

Among other business taken up at last Monday's meeting, the selectmen on order of the chairman, George H. Lowe, Jr., voted to meet with the school committee next Monday evening to select a successor to Clara E. Turner, who recently resigned from the school board. The school committee has been deadlocked on the matter of filling the vacancy and the selectmen have marked time to give the school board a chance to agree. Should the selectmen vote on a candidate next Monday evening, they can break the deadlock.

Police Officer Proud Father of Arlington's First 1936 Arrival

According to all records available at this time, Arlington's first 1936 baby is a son born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Sullivan at the Symmes hospital. The young man, a 9-pound bouncing baby, made his initial bow on New Year's Day. And, what's more the proud father happens to be one of Arlington's finest on the police force. Both mother and son are reported doing very nicely.

Published every Friday by Arlington News, Inc., at 793 Massachusetts ave., Arlington.

AN HONEST DAY'S WORK

A prominent local welfare official made this significant statement last week before an audience of nearly one hundred people: "If you should ask me to find you a man to do an honest day's work I wouldn't know where to find one."

We understand also that about 100 reserves were listed by this district of the Post Office to have in readiness for those who might fail to report for duty after doing one day's work on Christmas mail deliveries.

Unfortunately too much easy money is being handed out to the type of men that realize that they can get just as much for leaning on their shovels as by using them.

All of this graft and inefficiency must sooner or later be paid for by the average citizen and when Government aid ceases and the load is placed back upon local communities the public will be less responsive to appeals for aid.

TELL THE TRUTH

Critics have waged an unceasing war on advertising. Supported by the theoretical Mr. Tugwell they have demanded that the industry not only be regulated by bureaucratic academicians but have gone so far as to say that advertising should be eliminated completely.

But what about the advertisers? What are they doing to offset this criticism? Why are they almost submissive to those nitwits who would regiment the nation? We do not know.

But we do appreciate the recent speech of H. B. Le Quatte, president of the Advertising Club of New York and an expert in advertising.

Mincing no words Mr. Le Quatte declares that now is the time for a constructive movement to tell the truth about advertising. He says "it is entirely wrong that there should exist so much misconception about a phase of American life that is so closely associated with our daily affairs as is advertising."

We urge advertisers to drop their defensive attitude and to present a united front in educating the public so that it may better understand the importance of advertising in the modern world.

LEST WE FORGET

Today certain factions are subjecting the American Constitution to vigorous attack. They are saying it is outmoded and unable to cope with modern conditions. And they are suggesting changes and amendments which, in some cases, would amount to complete emasculation of the rights and liberties we now enjoy under Constitutional protection.

It is usually easier to criticize than to defend, and the critics of the Constitution have found many listeners and not a few converts. Lest we forget the virtues of the Constitution, it might be well to recall these words, uttered in 1878 by the great English statesman, William Gladstone. "The American Constitution is, so far as I can see, the most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man."

Some things are timeless. Among those things are freedom — freedom of action within the law, freedom of expression, freedom of speech. The Constitution has nothing to do with booms or depressions — nothing to do with partisan politics. It simply guarantees us those essential liberties for which men have fought for thousands of years. Look abroad, at Germany, Russia, Italy, Poland — do we want to follow their example and make freedom an impotent word, and liberty a crime against the state? Then save the Constitution from being weakened or destroyed.

THE NEWS OBSERVES

Skating at both Hill's pond and the Reservoir proved an expensive pastime to two local people this week. According to a complaint made to the police two pairs of shoes were stolen from the shores of these ponds while skaters were out on the ice.

Another strange theft, which may possibly be linked with the above, is a pair of skates stolen from a Rhinecliff at home.

The NEWS has received a rather startling letter criticizing the method of Christmas basket distribution which would make good reading but it is quite evident that, as usual, the person who didn't dare sign his or her name could not back up his charges.

Mr. Average Citizen says: "The average citizen knows all the rackets, but what can he do about it, no newspapers have guts enough to publish it because it will reduce their profits in advertising. 'Yet, Mr. Average Citizen hasn't 'guts' as he calls it to sign his own name to the letter. Ho, hum!"

If the writer will make himself known, at least, the NEWS will be only too glad to help him investigate the charges he has made.

To change the subject, Arlington homes are certainly attractive with their Christmas displays this year. Among the outstanding displays are those at 18 Grafton St., home of Police Officer Joseph Cahalan; at 732 Massachusetts avenue, home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. A. Smith; and the house at the foot of Herbert road, owner unknown.

Here's a boy who packs a mean wallop! According to a police report, Dr. Frank H. Gery was called upon to extract a tooth from the back of a 16 year old boy's right hand at the Symmes hospital last Tuesday afternoon. The tooth didn't grow there at all but it seems the youth acquired it during a mutual assault while skating on Spy Pond.

WE THANK YOU!

WELFARE COUNCIL PRAISES SUPPORT GIVEN BY PUBLIC

The following letters are of great interest to the people of Arlington:

December 31, 1935

To the Editor:

The Arlington Welfare Council wishes to thank through your columns, the many individuals, Sunday schools, church groups, clubs, and organizations, who gave so generously at Christmas, making it possible for the Council to have its most successful season. And that means also that because of this generosity, the Council was able to help a great many families.

Beside the names given to the Boy and Girl Scout troops and others, 85 baskets were made up and delivered from Council Headquarters.

Hundreds of toys, beautifully reconstructed by the firemen, were distributed to parents of children thus made happier because of them.

Also because of the failure of Federal Works Progress checks to come through before Christmas, a great many loans were made to these workers to enable them to tide their families over the holiday.

Scores of letters have been received expressing the sincere gratitude of the people, many telling of how they would not have had anything for Christmas, had the Council not been able to help out.

Very glad to see in your edition of the 20th a reference to the Crime Report which I sent to the Governor last spring. Keep it up. OVER 250 SCOUTS AT ANNUAL SACHEM FEAST

More than 250 Scouts, parents and friends attended the Annual Camp Sachem Banquet, held at Cedar Hill, Waltham, last Monday evening. It was the largest Boy Scout gathering yet held in this section. Boys from the entire Council area, Arlington, Bedford, Belmont, Concord, Lexington, Lincoln, Waltham, and Watertown, most of whom had attended Camp Sachem, the Council's summer camp at Antrim, N.H., attended to renew old friendships and to enjoy an evening of fun.

Franklin P. Hawkes of Arlington, President of Sachem Council, presided, and Carl A. Everberg, chairman of the Troop 6 Committee, Arlington, was the toastmaster. Russell L. Snow, Scoutmaster of Troop 8, Arlington, was in charge of all arrangements.

M. E. Daniels of Antrim, N.H., was the guest speaker of the evening. Mr. Daniels brought the greetings of all the friends of the boys in Antrim.

Other speakers were Tracy W. Ames of Lexington, chairman of Robert P. Trask and George W. Butters, both of Lexington, and former presidents of the Council, and A. B. Tenney of Lexington, donor of the motor boat at Camp Sachem.

Toastmaster Everberg kept the party alive with his humorous stories and jokes and introduced the skits put on by the various troops.

Michele DiGregory, a member of Troop 39, Waltham, rendered a solo which was enjoyed by all. After the boys had filled up on chicken pie all joined in the singing of camp songs led by Murray L. Hendsbee, Scoutmaster of Troop 6, Arlington.

The last feature on the program was the appearance of Scout Executive Richard A. Mellen, dressed as the "Spirit of Passaconaway".

who gave a farewell 'til camp in true Indian style.

The evening closed with the playing of "Taps" by Scout Warren Patriquin of Troop 6, Arlington.

GRANGE PLANS SOCIAL

Dramatic Reviewer Selects Year's Best Plays and Actors

By JOSEPH D. CALLAHAN

About this time a year ago in an article along the same line as this one we made the statement that Arlington is the banner town of the Commonwealth and in fact the entire New England states for the interest it takes and the support it gives amateur dramatic productions. The year which has just closed substantiates that statement not only in the quantity of local enthusiasts who have given their wholehearted support to the various organizations but also in the quality of the presentations.

In May Arlington had the great distinction of presenting the New England Drama Festival for Secondary Schools. This event was held in the Town Hall on May 10th and 11th and was a success in every way. The Manchester Central High School of Manchester, N. H., won the championship and the prize presented by Professor Boyd Smith of the College of Fine Arts of Yale University. Bennington, Vermont, was second and Rumford, Maine, third. Concord, Mass. High School received honorable mention.

Naturally in arranging and presenting an affair of such magnitude as this there is no small amount of work involved. The festival went off with a smoothness and precision that left nothing to be desired. 150 or more guests were held in private homes and a grand fund of parties and social functions was held in their honor during their stay here. That Arlington was able to extend the full measure of hospitality to her out-of-state guests is due largely to the foresight and indefatigable energy of Mrs. Helen F. Matthews, popular instructor at Arlington High and President of the New England Interscholastic Drama Guild, 52c and her efficient assistant, Miss Claire Johnston, worked virtually night and day to make this festival the great success that it was.

The Drama Friends
The Friends of the Drama again established their pre-eminence as Arlington's leading dramatic organization with many fine plays and three especially noteworthy performances. The three referred to are "Swift Sword" from the pen of Parker Wood, editor of the Advocate, "Iolanthe," a Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera, and the more recent production of "Princess Ida," another Gilbert and Sullivan piece which packed their playhouse on four consecutive evenings. "Swift Sword" was presented on Jan. 23, 25 and 26 and, despite the fact that Arlington in common with all New England experienced a severe blizzard and storm which raised havoc with transportation, hundreds saw the performance which incidentally was a play of the first water. "Iolanthe" was presented late in March and "Princess Ida" was put on little more than a fortnight ago.

All of the other dramatic groups had a successful year also. The Park Players of the Heights, under the tutelage of that past master of dramas William O. Partridge, soared to even greater heights than they had previously attained. Their two greatest successes of the year were "Disraeli" and "Richard of Bordeaux" both historical plays and both presented with a finesse that one always hopes for but seldom expects to see in an amateur production. Their offerings were not confined to heavy drama however because in May they presented an excellent three-act comedy entitled "Three Corned Moon" which broke all records for attendance at their playhouse adjoining the Park Avenue Congregational Church.

The St. James Dramatic Club of the Heights leaned towards comedy during 1935 and presented several hits which delighted the huge throngs which gathered in St. James Hall on Appleton st for the plays. In February they pre-

William S. Packer of Winchester, Uncle Dudley editorial writer of the Boston Globe said, after reading our review last year and noting that we had selected the best actor and actress of 1934, that your envoy must be a man of great courage. Now while we felt pleased that the Reverend Packer should think that we are courageous nevertheless we hastened to assure him that the selections were made on a fair impartial basis taking into consideration the work of every local actor and actress of 1934.

Year's Best Actress
This year on the same basis we have selected Miriam Hendrick Cahalin as the best actress of 1935. Taking a leading, and incidentally the hardest, role in the performance "Swift Sword," presented by the Friends of the Drama in January, she rose to great histrionic heights. It was a part that was anything but easy and yet she carried it out with sincerity and perfection. For the best actor of 1935 we must again choose Emory Battis, President of the Park Players. As "Disraeli" and later on as "Richard of Bordeaux" his work was absolutely the "tops" to use a popular expression. Acting is one of the hardest arts. But Emory is a real artist. Perfect poise and perfect emphasis go hand and hand in all of Emory's efforts. Honorable mention for 1935 goes to Marjorie Manning, President of the Friends of the Drama. Virginia Hunt Winner, who enacted the title role in "Peg O' My Heart" for the benefit of the Rainbow Girls, Mrs. Henry E. Keenan of the St. Jerome Players, Lorraine Miller of the Park Players, and Miss Helen Greeley of the St. James Dramatic Club. Honorable mention for the best actor goes to Russell T. Hamlet of the Friends of the Drama, Philip Whittier, Fred Roome and Francis Club; Brenton Roberts and Kendall French of the Park Players; and Myles Joyce and James Coffey of the St. Jerome Players.

Many former Arlington actors and actresses were engaged in dramatic work elsewhere in 1935. Fred Sullivan and Edmund Page appeared in plays in Lexington. Quite a few ex-local stars are now on the main stem in New York. A couple are quite successful in current professional hits. We heard of their activities while in New York in October and will have more about them later on.

St. John's Guild Sponsors Successful Holiday Dance Party

The windows decorated with large Christmas wreaths, the lights shaded with red and a miniature tree sparkling on the refreshment table gave the setting for the young people's dance in St. John's Parish Hall on Friday evening. This is the fifth assembly to gather under the smiling moon that lights the centre of the hall since Mrs. J. H. Kernan's group undertook these dances.

Mrs. F. H. Newcomb who issues the invitations was unfortunately ill and unable to be present, but her plans were successfully carried out with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kernan in charge of arrangements in the hall. Mrs. Norval Bacon and Miss Emily Hickey supervised the admissions with the assistance of Wm. A. Carr, R. S. Simonds Jr., as usual a most efficient head usher had as his aides, Donald Burns, David Haines, Chandler Lewis and William Does. The matrons were mesdames Arthur Sampson, Harold and Oswald Yeames.

The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. B. F. Hickey, J. J. Rowlands and Mrs. George Donahoe and Mr. Clifford Dumble took care of the checking. The music was a four piece orchestra with Elliot B. Leonard leader. It was a delightful party especially for the younger group who were in the majority. Many lovely gowns were worn by the young ladies and a real holiday spirit prevailed. Several young persons home from school and college were noted—among whom were Virginia Cox from Wellesley, Hope Wells and Marcia Kidder from Mt. Holyoke, Jean Hamilton from Cushing Academy and Jack Hickey from Peekskill Military Academy, as well as several from the colleges nearer home.

Daly Seeks New Cancer Hospital

(SPECIAL TO THE NEWS)
State House, Boston, January 3.—Construction of a cancer hospital at the North Reading sanitarium is requested by Senator Charles T. Daly of this district. The Middlesex Senator contends that the North Reading hospital may be extended to provide beds for patients suffering from cancer and would be along the lines of the institutional work done at Pondsville and the proposed hospital at Westfield.

Senator Daly was active last year in securing the cancer hospital in western Massachusetts and today declares that similar accommodations should be provided for residents of Eastern Massachusetts, especially along the North Shore.

The hospital would be constructed in keeping with the state institutional program. A survey of hospital facilities made by the Ways and Means committee of both the House and Senate is reported to have convinced the board that any bond issue for such building which may be advocated by the Governor is worthy of serious consideration and much optimism is held for its passage.

Arlington Boys' Club Having Busy Season

The Arlington Boys' Club is going strong with meetings in the Heights, Centre and East End every Tuesday and Thursday evenings. On Tuesday evenings, inter-sectional basketball games are being played at Junior High East, West and Senior High. On Thursday evenings, the boys enjoy other games as well as speakers, moving pictures and entertainment.

Kiwanis Notes

KIWANIANS INSALL

New officers of the Arlington Kiwanis club were installed at impressive ceremonies in Wyman's English tavern last evening. Governor James Gallagher of this Kiwanis district was installing officer and principal speaker.

The festivities opened with a dinner. Following the installation, cards and dancing were enjoyed by Kiwanians and their ladies. Officers installed were:

Lewis M. Bowe, president; Leonard P. Roberts, first vice president; Chester R. Whitman, second vice president; William D. Israel, treasurer; Maurice L. Hatch, secretary; Elmer E. Anderson, immediate past president; Louis Doctoroff, Dr. Harold E. Hodgdon, Stanley P. Miller, Joseph F. Quinn, Dr. Sidney M. Simonds, John M. White and Roy Wood, directors.

C. of C. Minstrel Show January 10 To Have Many Hits

Followers of amateur theatricals in Arlington are due for a real treat next Friday night when the big Chamber of Commerce minstrel show will be produced at the Robbins town hall for the benefit of the Arlington Boys' Club. The show will be by far the biggest, peepiest and most varied minstrel production ever presented in Arlington.

Featured laugh-producers will include Walter T. Chamberlain, Clarence Peterson, Bert Tate, Warren Lindberg, Bill Scanlan, Paul Bennett, Lew Bowe, F. P. Hawkes, and Chet Cook. A glimpse at these men during a rehearsal this week convinced the writer that those attending the performance will witness a lively show. These men are working hard and are putting their heart and soul into the work.

With George Lord assisted by Miss Harris, as director, the show is in good hands. Director Lord has arranged several specialty numbers which are sure to prove a hit. Two juvenile dancers especially will surprise everybody.

Tickets may be secured at Platine's Shoe Store, at the Centre railroad crossing. And, remember the proceeds are to be turned over to a most worthy cause—the Arlington Boys' Club.

Sportswriters Honor Local Newspapermen

Two Arlington newspapermen were honored at the annual banquet of the Massachusetts Interscholastic Sportswriters Association, last Monday evening at the Hotel Lenox in Boston.

Robert Webb of the Transcript and Joseph D. Callahan, special writer for the NEWS were appointed to the legislative committee of the organization by President Paul V. Craigie, Scholastic Sports Editor of the Globe.

President Craigie was toastmaster for the evening and introduced a galaxy of sport stars and writers to the hundreds assembled around the festive board. A trophy for the best football player of the year was presented to Leo Reardon of Malden by Theodore A. Glynx who represented Gov. Curley, and the Fred J. O'Brien, team trophy was awarded jointly to Malden and Waltham with the Watch City gaining the distinction of holding it first.

The principal speaker of the evening was Jimmy Fox, newest acquisition of the Red Sox who was introduced as the personification of all that is good in baseball and life, by his boss Eddie Collins, General Manager of the Sox. Victor O. Jones, sporting editor of the Globe, received a big ovation when he arose to address the gathering and he responded with a brief but extremely interesting talk on sports. Other speakers included Faculty Mgr. H. L. Collins of Medford, Hy Hurwitz, boxing editor of the Globe, Cy Scoles, Frank Conway, Fred Bosworth of the Medford Mercury, Percy Shain of the Waltham Tribune and Will Cloney of the Boston Herald.

Among the distinguished guests present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Reardon, parents of Leo Reardon; Coach Fred Osterger of Arlington High; Ralph Colson, Director of Athletics at Mass. Teachers' College, Al Coughlin of the Boston Record, J. W. Mooney of the Post, and Coaches Chadwick Dickerman of Somerville, Warren McGuirk of Malden, Jack Leary of Waltham and Mark Devlin. The four coaches presented good charms to the players on their squads who were guests for the evening.

The association is planning a very busy year with the spring banquet for April 6 and the usual round robin baseball tourney later on.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

The Robbins Library Hall resounded with good cheer as Junior Woman's Club members met their old friends at an informal tea given by the Club last Saturday. The mellow glow of red candles on the daintily appointed tables gave a quiet air of festivity. Many college girls home for the holidays, also several former residents of the town, were noted among those present.

Active Jimmy Knox Gets Big Hand in Peabody

Arlington has had quite some influence on the ever-active Jimmy Knox, former manager of the Regent theatre and now manager of the Strand theatre in Peabody. Where he is better known as "J. Arlington Knox."

Always eager to help a good cause locally, Jimmy is following up the good work along same lines in Peabody. The Centre school has made him director of a new band unit which is one of the snappiest you've ever laid eyes on. Then with the superintendent of schools, and principal of the Centre school in Peabody Jimmy has helped build up a grammar school basketball team that is going places.

To top it all, during the Christmas season, the young man just about clinched the title for sponsoring something different; he organized a glee club. At the height of the shopping rush one afternoon, the thirty-odd singers with the aid of several trumpeters from Peabody High School, entertained in front of the Peabody's Strand theatre with time honored carols. Under the auspices of the Elks, Jimmy also gave his theatre for a Kiddy-Kan show where the youngsters were admitted on paying a canned food or toys which went to the needy. Here's what the Peabody Enterprise in its editorial column thought of the idea: "When money is raised for charitable purposes, some form of entertainment goes with it. Once it was City Hall or perhaps Peabody Institute that was called upon for their space. In most cases today it is the Strand Theatre and Jimmy Knox. He responds nobly. The recent entertainment at Peabody's only showhouse was not only packed to the doors but hundreds of children lined Main st. waiting to enter. The Strand made it possible. There is something about the goodwill of this theatre that must appeal to all people of Peabody. It is not a business proposition for a playhouse of this kind to give up receipts and call it good advertising. True, it makes many friends. In these times when so many are out of work the spirit of helpfulness is a virtue. It must be said that the Strand occupies a high place in the hearts of those who have been striving for years to help the unfortunate. Peabody is fortunate in having a place where entertainment is furnished to further the efforts of organizations that give and ask nothing in return."

Local Man's Firm

TREMONT THEATRE'S
PROVEN PICTURES

Joan Crawford and Clark Gable to the Tremont Theatre program for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in "Forsaking All Others." "Unknown Woman" is the co-feature on this program, starring Marion Marsh and Richard Cromwell.

Wednesday and Thursday, for the third time in as many months, returned because of numerous requests and its par excellence in entertainment is "Thirty-Nine Steps" with Robert Donat and Madeleine Carroll; on the same program are Jean Arthur and Victor Jory in "Party Wire."

Friday and Saturday, "Vanessa" with Robert Montgomery and Helen Hayes; this is the first appearance of Montgomery on the Tremont screen and it is expected he will be much in demand from Tremont Theatre fans in the future. "After The Dance" is the co-feature on this program, featuring Nancy Carroll and George Murphy.

Proven Pictures

Many people ask, "What is meant by proven pictures?" A year and a half ago the Tremont Theatre reopened under its present management, with the aim of presenting to the people of Greater Boston a program of selected pictures of the present season, pictures that were matched with others of the season and proven to be the best. During the past year, the many services and facilities now obtainable were added to complete the comfort and enjoyment of patrons. The theatre was renovated and special constructed and roomily spaced seats were installed.

Noted Author And Lecturer To Give Series at the Heights

The Tower Mothers Club and the Religious Education Committee of the Park Avenue Congregational Church are sponsoring a series of lectures on subjects by Margaret Eggleston Owen, well known author and lecturer on subjects of vital interest to parents, teachers and others who have the welfare of children and young people at heart.

Mrs. Owen will lecture on three Monday evenings at 8 o'clock in the Parish House of the Park Avenue Congregational Church, Arlington, as follows:

Jan. 13th "Understanding the Adolescent"
Jan. 27th "The Development of Personality"
Feb. 10th "The Home as a Cultural and Spiritual Centre"

Mrs. Owen is exceptionally well qualified to speak about these subjects, for in her own home life she has lived out a beautiful and inspiring relationship between parents and children. Her influence extends, however, far beyond her own home. In the community she stands as one devoted to the highest and best for young people. She has been the director of young people's work in one of the largest Boston churches. There and in the summer camps she is known affectionately as "Mother E" to many children who find in her sympathy and love they desire so much.

Her understanding of these problems has helped hundreds of parents who have heard her lecture or tell stories. She is constantly speaking before large gatherings that hold her long after she finishes that she may answer questions. We are fortunate to have her here in Arlington.

Her reputation is world-wide. Some of her books have been translated into many languages, among them Chinese and Japanese. She has written many books, her latest one, "Faith or Fear in Child Training," is probably the best of its kind. It treats such subjects as "Developing Self-Control," "The Child and His Money," "Teasing, Criticizing, Quarrelling, Fighting," "Discipline, Reward and Punishment."

Mrs. Owen knows her subject well. She has studied at Albany State College for Teachers, Western Reserve, Columbia and Boston Universities. For four years she herself taught at Boston University. She is an authority in this field of Child Training.

Tickets may be obtained from members of the above organizations or from the following:

Mrs. Raymond Merrill, 116 Claremont ave. ARL. 5083.
Mr. Herman Doane, 29 Cliff st. ARL. 4638.
Menotomy Pharmacy, 133 Mass ave. ARL. 1384 or at the door.
A fine musical program will precede each lecture

LOOKING INSIDE

Jan. 2. How did you spend New Year's Eve? Hotels and headaches or Radio and rest? You could get most anything you wanted on the radio—New Year's greetings from London and elsewhere, dancing everywhere, a cocktail program and Bromo-seltzer program for a pick-me-up. Did you get a New Year's Card, one chap in Town got a letter addressed to the "Next Town Clerk" and inside besides the card was a request for a $5.00 contribution for a campaign fund—unassigned.

P.S. Did you travel around any the small number of cars on the road last winter and hence the Excise Tax would be for a full year. Insurance rates might drop because of the full year premium. It would mean more money for the filling stations and the repair man.

P. S. S. Our dear Governor asks for more and new taxes for the State. Did those birds up on the hill ever hear of the idea of spending less? More taxes mean more fun to give out, more friends to hold jobs but more grief for the rest of us. If you do not like the idea of new additional taxes see your Representative and Senator—don't slap him on the back—there are other places.

P. S. S. S. From now on we may expect a flood of announcements that this or that person is out for some town office. If all do run that we have heard about we will have a long ballot and will have to be careful in marking it. So don't take sides till the list is completed. Perhaps a better man will show up.

Will Drive Car 25 Miles Without Oil

Can an automobile be driven without oil in the crankcase?

"No," said a prominent Arlington business man but Hugh S. Field and N. C. Haskell, New England representatives for Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil said "It can be done" and as a result these young men will set out next Thursday to drive a car through Arlington and vicinity for a distance of twenty-five miles or more after the oil has been drained from the crankcase.

The purpose of this test is to demonstrate the presence of the "hidden quart" found only in Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

It was explained that this "hidden quart" which is produced through the Germ Process, a patented process controlled by the Continental Oil Company, is the result of the properties of the oil to penetrate into and combine with the metal surfaces. This leaves a lubricating film on the main parts of the engine to cut down starting wear and prolong the life of the motor.

We understand this test has been performed successfully many times in other parts of the country and shall await with interest its outcome in Arlington.

After spending the Christmas holidays with her parents, Lieut. and Mrs. W. P. Slattery, Miss Aloysie Slattery has returned to her duties with the Agricultural Dept. at Washington, D. C.

ance Committee, as well as my life-long residence here, qualifies me to serve the Town usefully as Town Clerk.

I intend to make an active, militant, non-partisan campaign for the office, and I invite all persons, regardless of political faith to join with me in this campaign. The only promise I will make is to serve the Town faithfully, impartially, and to the best of my ability.

With many thanks to you for permitting me to make this announcement through your paper, and with my appreciation to the many people who have already pledged me their support, I remain

Sincerely yours
 Wm. B. Barry

Bill Would Change Nomination To Town Office Requirement

(SPECIAL TO THE NEWS) State House, Boston, December 31.—Nomination of candidates for public office in the Town of Arlington at the annual town caucus would require at least 5 per cent of the total vote, to qualify the nominee, under the terms of a bill introduced today by Rep. Michael T. O'Brien of Easthampton.

The western Massachusetts member of the towns committee would demand that five per cent of the voting membership of the town, at a caucus express its satisfaction with the nomination of a potential candidate, before the name is placed on the officials town ballot.

Exempted from the proposed measure, state wide in scope, is the election of candidates of political or municipal parties.

LOEW'S STATE & ORPHEUM

At both Loew's State and Orpheum theatres is "A Tale of Two Cities," Charles Dickens' famous classic starring Ronald Colman. Incidentally, the picture is the first release of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's 1936 parade of hits.

Produced by David O. Selznick, who was also responsible for "David Copperfield," the cast, headed by Ronald Colman and personally chosen by Selznick reaches the astonishing total of 112 famous players. Outstanding are Edna May Oliver, Reginald Owen, Basil Rathbone, Blanche Yurka, Henry B. Walthall, Donald Woods, Walter Catlett, Fritz Leiber, H. B. Warner, Mitchell Lewis, Claude Gillingwater, Billy Bevan, Isabel Jewell, Lucille Laverne, Tully Marshall, E. E. Clive, Lawrence Grant, Tom Ricketts and Fay Chaldecott.

The story of "A Tale of Two Cities" is intimately known to millions of readers. It tells of the joy and sorrow, the adventures and the trials of a little group of people, English and French, who are caught in the maelstrom of the French revolution of 1789.

KEITH MEMORIAL

Lily Pons, the entrancing young coloratura soprano who soared to fame with the Metropolitan Opera and who has won world-wide acclaim as one of the greatest singers of all time, makes her screen debut in RKO-Radio's "I Dream Too Much," which began an engagement at the Keith Memorial theatre, New Year's Eve.

Miss Pons combines two grand opera arias and four popular songs composed especially for the picture by Jerome Kern in her vocal selections. The arias are "Caro Nome" from Verdi's "Rigoletto" and the "Bell Song" from "La Traviata." Both are from operas which Miss Pons has sung to international acclaim.

Miscellaneous short films: an Everett Haydn organologue and Pathe News complete the show.

In the program of matters for discussion the association of town officials will consider its stand relative to forthcoming legislation affecting the local self-government of towns.

METROPOLITAN THEATRE

Continuing the series of New Year Jubilee programs the management of the Metropolitan Theatre take great pride and pleasure in announcing another new season screen and stage bill for the week beginning today.

Among the principals in the glamorous revue of melody and beauty are Peggy Peer, Evelyn Kay, Sally Irene and May Rachel and Sonia. The Gaylene Sisters and The Elida Ballet.

Savitzky directs the orchestra in another of his original musical impressions.

New Year Ushered In Quietly Here

While Boston, Cambridge and other surrounding cities and towns celebrated New Year's Eve with a bang, Arlington police had a comparatively easy task as guardians of law and order.

Not one auto accident was reported here the night before the holiday and no arrests were made for drunkenness.

On New Year's night only two "guests" were taken to police headquarters for over-indulging in goggle water.

Reardon Asks Final Check-up On Teacher Who Took Allegiance

(SPECIAL TO THE NEWS) State House, Boston.—The Superintendent of Schools and principals of local private institutions this week received requests from Commissioner of Education James G. Reardon, to aid in tabulating the number of instructors who have complied with the "oath law".

The new Commissioner declared the steps are taken to complete a final record on this matter. Every one of the 267 teachers and supervisors in local public schools, have taken the oath, the NEWS learned.

Commissioner Reardon pointed out that it has not been found necessary to withhold funds to public schools, which might cost the town $53,504 in the event of failure of instructors to comply with the law, nor has it been necessary to rescind the charter of private schools in such cases.

In a notification to institution heads, the Commissioner declared that "It is desirable to have in the department a final record showing that all the teachers in private and public institutions within the Commonwealth have complied with the provisions of chapter 370 of the acts of 1935."

Friends of Herbert W. Hackett of 23 Varum st. will be sorry to learn that he is ill again in the Cambridge Hospital on Mt. Auburn st.

"Another Face" - RKO-Radio's new mystery comedy-drama which unfolds behind the camera against a movie studio background, will be the screen attraction, Wallace Ford, Brian Donlevy and Phyllis Brooks have the principal roles. The latest issues of Pathé and Universal newsreels and other short films will also feature the show.

Governor's Message

By Staff Correspondent
STATE HOUSE, Boston —
Hearalding a new era of "social justice," Gov. James M. Curley on New Year's Day laid before the Massachusetts legislature a broad plan for "social security," overshadowed by a detailed program of state building at institutions and a fiscal policy containing multitudinous unpopular tax proposals.

Reforms in structure by adoption of a unicameral legislature, reduction of membership and urged by the Chief Executive in his annual message to the General Court before large throngs in the House of Representatives.

Slightly touching on a definite program of "social security" for which he has definitely declared himself, the Governor reviewed his success and failure of the past year, hailing his victories as the foundation of a social security platform. Explaining the failure of the "work and wages" program, now a much mourned slogan, the Governor asserted the responsibility rests with the legislature, "which provided funds not only grudgingly but in such limited amount as to make impossible the complete fulfillment of the pledge of work and wages."

Taxation Program

An amazing feature of the New Year's Day address is the taxation financial program drafted by the Governor.

Features outlined include a continuation of the 10 per cent surtax, adopted last year, continuation for five years of the additional gasoline tax, doubled license fee for trucks on the highway, additional taxes on dog racing, with horses remaining free from a tax increase, transfer of alcoholic taxes from the special old age assistance fund to the general fund, a 40 cents a gallon tax on each proof gallon of alcohol, a two cent cigarette tax and a five dollar license fee for slot machines.

To the end that the state tax be dismissed, the new forms of taxation are recommended.

Judicial reforms are urged on the legislature, which, if adopted would clear the Supreme Judicial Court of the elder jurists. The judges, according to the Governor "because of age, can no longer meet completely the requirements of the office." Under the pension plan devised by the Governor to retire jurists at full pay when they reach the age of 70, his claim is that the "Commonwealth would be assured of a full quota of judges intellectually in the prime of life, without the need of drastic action against men who have given long and honorable service and whose only fault is the natural one of failing to recognize the gradual waning of their powers."

In accord with recent trends, Governor Curley announced himself wholeheartedly in favor of a vast spending program designed to produce a building program at State institutions without listing contemplated expenditures and devoid of gubernatorial recommendation for financing the projects.

Throughout the entire message appeared eulogies of his administration in 1935 and the benefits produced under his guidance. His condemnation of the legislature which blocked his proposals was carried through in his 1936 New Year's greeting as he requested additional funds to complete the unfinished program proposed a year ago.

Additional buildings, equipment for newly erected hospitals, finances for additional personnel, housing for added workers and new buildings to relieve overcrowding are asked without provision for the appropriation of funds to carry through the program.

Would Clear Slums
In line with the federal government housing act, slum clearance and low cost housing developments are a vital part of the "social security" program which was today laid before the legislature for consideration.

Contrary to his opening words to the General Court wherein he hailed the new year as the "end of the depression," asserting that "The year 1936 should prove memorable in the annals of our country marking as it will the end of the greatest depression ever visited upon the American people," the Governor hailed a new program of social welfare overburdened with reminders of the "scriptural admonition 'I am my brother's keeper.'"

Throughout his discussion of legislative reforms is noted a definite trend of the new democracy to centralize governmental authority.

Economy in operating government is hailed as the cause for a reduction in the number of legislators, abolition of a legislative sessions.

Removal of the stumbling block of numbers, with the control of law making in the hands of a selected few, further removed from the voting public, is contrary to the intent of the framers of constitution of the Commonwealth, carried further with later amendments, providing for large delegations to be elected by the voters as spokesmen, during a time when population was not as great as today.

Control of governmental authority, and absorption of local governmental functions, admittedly passes from the hands of the electorate into the autocratic domination of a distant minority, with the limiting of governmental bodies.

Compulsory School Age.

In keeping with the desires of the Massachusetts Federation of Labor, the Governor has urged upon the General Court an increase in the compulsory school age from 14 to 16, the main purpose given, to stimulate employment for the adult unemployed.

In whipping the legislature publicly, Governor Curley today left the House chamber, with a perplexed legislature wondering just how it may justify the enormous expenditures urged by the Governor while their 1935 financial escape still leaves a disagreeable birthmark on their political faces.

V. F. W. NOTES

Arlington post 1775 V.F.W. and auxiliary heralded the New Year with a brilliant party in their new quarters last Tuesday evening. The affair in the form of a costume dance party was the most successful of its kind ever held. The costumes were varied and original to say the least. Balloons, favors and noisemakers were given those attending the party. Dancing, games and public speaking were part of the program which started late Tuesday evening and wound up early New Year's morning.

The V.F.W. auxiliary will meet this evening in the post quarters.

Calling attention to a letter from National Commander Van Zant, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Commander Geary of the local post yesterday issued a statement urging all local residents interested in immediate payment of the bonus to war veterans to communicate immediately with Senator David V. Walsh, Marcus A. Coolidge and Congressman Edith Rogers at Washington.

The V.F.W. aim is immediate payment in full of the adjusted compensation certificates to war veterans. It is pointed out that while those at home during the Great War were earning very high wages, soldiers who fought under the worst of conditions abroad received but $30 a month. In 1924 Congress passed an Act to compensate the veterans but the money was never paid in full.

Now, Congress is to take up action on the delayed payment within a few weeks it is expected.

Annual January Furniture Sale At McManus Store

Charles F. McManus' January Furniture sale, an event conducted during the past 21 years is now in full swing.

In accordance with custom, following the annual inventory, McManus has reduced prices on every piece of furniture in stock so that customers may get savings of as high as 25 per cent on honest, high quality merchandise.

Whether intending to buy or not, local residents will be repaid by visiting McManus' Furniture Store at this time. Its stock is well worth seeing and a visit is sure to provide some valuable home furnishing hints.

All furniture in the store is tagged so that mark-downs are plainly seen. And, of course, everybody knows that McManus' is located just across the street from the Robbins town hall.

Mayor Childs To Be Speaker at Trinity

This coming Sunday evening, Jan. 5th, at 7:15 o'clock, at the Forum in Trinity Baptist Church, the speaker will be Mayor-Elect E. O. Childs of Newton. His theme will be "The Christian as Citizen."

Last Sunday evening the speaker was Hon. Leon M. Conwell, ex-mayor of Somerville. He spoke in the theme, "The Story of My Father, Russell H. Conwell."

WOULD BLOCK AUTO GUEST COVERAGE RATE

Challenging the flat rate increase of 300 per cent in guest coverage automobile insurance "as a stepping stone to a flat rate for all automobile insurance," Rep. Frank L. Floyd of Manchester today called upon legislators from low rate zones to block the enforcement of the new guest coverage rate. Whereas three months ago, guest coverage was to have cost the motorist $32.5 it is now raised to $9.75, according to Floyd.

Arlington Tops Newton Hockey Sextet, 3 to 1

Coach Charlie Downes' fast-stepping Arlington High hockey sextet knocked the strong Newton High off its top berth in the interscholastic hockey league with a smart 3 to 1 win at the Boston Garden last Wednesday afternoon. The game was one of two exciting holiday clashes.

Arlington was covering and passing very well and had the edge on Newton. The Spy Ponders scored first when Lane, lugged to the defence, pushed the puck ahead and Preston collected inside. Not until the third period did Arlington score again. Chipman fed over from scrimmage and O'Reilly was first on the loose puck to drive it into the twine. After Butterick stopped a hot shot and robbed Keefe of the rebound, Flores hooked one onto the disc for the third goal. O'Reilly was on penalty when Brown passed out to Milner, anchored in front of the net and he crashed it back to prevent a whitewashing.

The summary:

ARLINGTON
Preston, Mee, lw
Chipman, Flores, c
Owen, Keefe, rw
Lane, ld
O'Reilly, rd
Button, g

NEWTON

Parking Regulations

It was also voted to restrict parking on Appleton at between Massachusetts and Harvard at on the southerly side. The appointment of a town physician and police surgeon was again postponed.

New Arlington Gofkauf Store Opening Today

Here's good news for every automobile owner in Arlington! Gofkauf's, New England's leading cut price automotive store, are opening a brand new store at 436 Massachusetts avenue in Arlington Centre, today.

The new store is the 28th in a fast growing chain which was originated in 1928. Good values, customer satisfaction and a complete stock account for the rapid climb of this auto supply chain. The Arlington store will be managed by Milton H. Hart with M. "Mitt" Watson as assistant manager.

Everything in up-to-date accessories and radio line will be carried at the new store. Prices as advertised in today's NEWS are exceedingly low and will without question meet with popular approval.

To celebrate the opening of the Arlington store, Gofkauf's will give away absolutely free today a metal bulb kit consisting of two headlight bulbs, a tail light and a dash light, all neatly packed in a safety kit, to every automobile owner presenting his 1936 registration.

Incidentally, the new Gofkauf store will be open every evening.

Birthday Ball

Nelson B. Crosby, because of the limited time, it has been impossible to personally reach representatives of all societies, but Mr. McMahon through the NEWS takes this opportunity to issue a cordial invitation to all groups in Arlington to send at least one representative to the town hall meeting next Tuesday evening. All, without exception, are urged to attend. The Birthday Balls are arranged by non-sectarian, non-political committees. The national committee is made up of church, business, political, and military leaders.

Anyone desiring information before next Thursday evening's meeting is cordially invited to telephone either Arlington 3540 or Liberty 1398.

70% of Proceeds To Town
Arlington will benefit to the extent of seventy percent of the proceeds which will remain here for treatment of local infantile paralysis victims, of which the town during the past year has had at least five. The remainder will be turned over to a national fund. During the past two years more than two million dollars have been raised through these Roosevelt Birthday Balls in this country.

Townsend Club Meets Tuesday

There will be a question period after the address by Capt. L. J. Hewitt at the meeting of the Arlington Townsend Club, on Tuesday evening, January 7, at 8 p.m. in Junior High School Center, on Academy street.

A string quartet will furnish music, and penny refreshments will be served. The importance of this meeting will be election of officers for the ensuing six months. All members are requested to attend.

The recovery movement steadily gains momentum in this country. George E. West, a Public Accountant of Chicago, says, "Before I studied and checked up on the Townsend Plan, I like many others, thought it merely an old age pension idea. Now, I know it is vastly more far reaching and benefits all ages — the whole nation. Briefly, its major purposes are: 1 — Business recovery through adequate circulation of money. 2 — Jobs for our young people, and for ALL workers under 60. 3 — Financial security for all ages. In my opinion, it is the most practical plan for recovery of our normal prosperity and for keeping it, ever offered to any people; and, its enactment by Congress will make our country bigger, better, happier, and more Christian, than ever before, because this plan will aid us all to better fulfill those two great commandments, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself" and "Honor thy Father and thy Mother."

Mr. and Mrs. K. T. Trehwella of 34 Hutchinson rd., are in New York for an indefinite stay. During their New York visit, they will make their home at the Hotel St. Regis.

SURVEY SHOWS INCREASES IN COST OF TOWN GOV'T

Continuing its survey of statistics of the various town departments, the Arlington Taxpayers' Association Executive Committee held a profound meeting last Monday evening.

Their first business was to take up under the by-laws the election of two of the precinct directors to the Executive Committee. In order to keep the Committee representative of the town, Richard Donovan of 28 Chandler st., in precinct 2 was elected, and William S. Patterson of 35 Peirce st., in precinct 13 was also elected. They will be presented as the new members of the Executive Committee at the meeting of the full directorate next Monday evening, Jan. 6th.

Room for Slashes
While it is known and expected that our charities and soldiers' benefits would increase during a period of depression, yet it is evident from the foregoing figures that no town department has had any substantial decrease in expenditures. The school department has shown a slight decrease, but health and sanitation and protection of persons and property have more than offset it.

What makes the various departments "tick"? Is there any reason why reductions or further reductions should not take place? Bearing in mind that on the 1934 valuation, an expenditure of $6094 means 10 cents on each thousand dollars, the Taxpayers' Association is continuing its investigations to the end that its members may be properly informed of conditions, and what departments of the town are not taking proper steps to conserve the taxpayers' money.

The worthy matron Mrs. Evelyn Taylor and worthy patron Mr. Geo. K. Fish of Longfellow Chapter O. E. S. entertained the officers of 1935 at Wyman's Tavern. A banquet was served after which games were played and dancing enjoyed. Each officer was presented with a Rhinestone clip in the form of a maple leaf. The gentlemen were presented with a tie clip set. Axel Christensen was the lucky winner of the prize for the evening.
